4th-5th May: Thanks to past research, we already know a lot about child development, but there is still much more to explore. Come visit us to find out how we at Lancaster University Babylab try to find the missing pieces.

6th May: Discover more about the science behind the way we learn to communicate with language. Join our child language researchers for child-friendly hands-on activities and some interactive demonstrations about how children learn to talk.
